

Barbra Streisand, Why Let It Go?

You smiled and you were in my life
I saw my dreams there in your eyes
You touched my hand, you touched my heart
You held me through the night, it felt so right
But love, it isn't all romance
It's filled with clouds and stormy skies
We may have come too close, too fast
But if we really care, so much is there why let it go?
Why let it go? Why run away
When what we have is so worth fighting for?
Why let it go? If every day we can hide our feelings less
So we can love each other more why let it go?

I know that when I'm in your arms
There's no such thing as good goodbyes
'Cause I believe that we have found
A love of heart and mind so hard to find, why let it go?
Why, why let it go? Don't run away
It's not easy, but it's worth fighting for
Why let it go? If every day we can hide our feelings less
So we can love each other more why let it go?
Why let it go?