

Barclay James Harvest, For Your Love

For your love I cry
The long lonely hours
Before the dawn
In my dreams I try
To hold back the dark
To hold back the fear
But I'm not alone tonight
So help me turn the tide
Light up the flame of love
And let it shine

I have hope, I pray
That someday we'll all
Have love of our own
In the long lonely night
I'll hold to the fire
That's burning so bright

But we're not alone tonight
So help me turn the tide
Light up the flame of love
And let it shine

We're not alone tonight
So help me turn the tide
Light up the flame of love
And let it shine

Let it shine

Let it shine
