Barclay James Harvest, On The Wings Of Love

Close my eyes and dream the time away Like the shadows in the night Count the hours until the break of day There's something missing from my life Can you see me as you listen to the radio Hope the message carries through I can see you waiting, waiting on the other side This song I sing is just for you

And I think it's gonna be all right Sailing into the night I'm gonna be flying high, higher than before And it seems like an endless flight Ooh, flying on the wings of love

Ooh, can you hear me talking down the line Way out in the lonely night And we both know It's just a matter of time Till we see the morning light

And I think it's gonna be all right Sailing into the night I'm gonna be flying high, higher than before And it seems like an endless flight Ooh, flying on the wings of love
