Barclay James Harvest, Pools Of Blue

And with the rain Soft pools of blue White mist like love When you glow so new Must warm to you

Just like the snow Falling anew When it's soaked through The snowdrops so few Must warm to you

Take my hand, my love Come talk to me Tell me of your walk Through leaves of green Where life was free

Tell me of rain In soft pools of blue How white mist like love When you glow so new

Must warm to you

Tell me of snow
Falling anew
How when it's soaked through
The snowdrops so few
Must warm to the love of your heart
Warm to the love of your heart
And warm to you

Take my hand, my love Come talk to me Tell me of your walk Through leaves of green Where life was free Take my hand, my love Come talk to me Tell me of your walk Through leaves of green Where life is free
