

BarlowGirl, Running Out Of Time

We are not blind, we know the truth
Still we don't stand, still we don't choose
We'd rather stay, so comfortable
Stuck in our world under control
We may not pull the trigger but we Stand by and watch then pretend not to see
Silence is worse then evil done
What in the world have we become?
Can't you see that this is war so pick your side?
It's time to move not time to hide
Don't let lies make up your mind
'Cause can't you see we're running out of time?
Tomorrow will come and one day we'll see
The choices we made, made history
Before it's to late find where you stand
Let's use our voice while we still can

Can't you see that this is war so pick your side?
It's time to move not time to hide
Don't let lies make up your mind
'Cause can't you see we're running out of time?
Running out of time
Running out of time
Can't you see that this is war so pick your side?
It's time to move not time to hide
Don't let lies make up your mind
'Cause can't you see we're running out of time?
Running out of time
Running out of time
Running out of time
