

Barnabas, Destroy After Use

Barnabas

Miscellaneous

Destroy After Use

You're up to the neck

You may never see the sun again

One slip and the world will split like a bloody wound

So place your final bet

Roll the dice; try to pretend

You can go forever, but the end is coming soon

You've seen the signs; when you know you've been left behind

Remember what your dark lord said:

"I destroy after use"

Ignorant child

So proud in believing you're wild

But you're a dog in chains taking kicks from your master in hell

He's got his hooks in you

Will you take the triple-six tattoo

Or try for freedom? You and time will tell

You've seen the signs; any day you're going to find

The devil's got a line on you

To destroy after use

You're up to the neck

You may never have this moment again

One slip and the blade will split through your mortal hide

So get this in your head

Your life won't end when you're dead

And when the graves are open there will be no place to hide