

Barnes And Barnes, Love Tap

Barnes And Barnes

Spazchow

Love Tap

I flew to the coast

To play guest to her host

In a scene too bizarre to believe

She accused me of lies

And she blackened my eyes

When I told her that I had to leave

She said it was a love tap

But I felt the pain

A love tap

She'll do it again

Oh I feel like a mess

And she's torn up her dress

Now we must change our violent ways

She scratched at my face

Put my nose out of place

Now I'm stumbling around in a dale

She said it was a love tap

But it hurt so bad

A love tap

It made me sad

She said it was a love tap

And I wonder why

A love tap

It made me cry

What will become of this love

Yeah

sallysally@usa.net