

Bayje, Find A Way

Im losin track of time But it's still movin' by
With no control of it Just seems so hard to leave this part's supposed to be the easiest thing i don't know where to go but i now this i can't stay here no more i got to leave [ohh woah]
I've been searching to find find me a way out of here I've been searching at night but deep in my mind i see it clear the route to take me from all this, turn left, keep straight, make a right Trying to find a way out of here There's got to be a way i got a map to guide me to the place that i thought i would never find but it's somewhere not far cuz it's right in my heart that need a hold tight i dun know where to go but i know this
i can't stay here no more i got to leave
I've been searching to find
find me a way out of here
I've been searching at night
the route to take me from all this, turn left, keep straight, make a right
Trying to find a way out of here
There's got to be a way when the problems i face won't go away, still i stand strong when the pressure is too much, i will stand up and brush it off I've been searching to find
find me a way out of here
I've been searching at night
but deep in my mind i see it clear
the route to take me from all this, turn left, keep straight, make a right
Trying to find a way out of here
There's got to be a way
I've been searching to find
find me a way out of here
but deep in my mind i see it clear
the route to take me from all this, turn left, keep straight, make a right
Trying to find a way out of here
There's got to be a way
