

Be Free, Better off alone

I woke up this morning
to find you're not here.
It's never been easy
to say what I feel.
I guess it's not right to just move on.
And maybe I should give a damn...

REF:

There's my road I will follow,
there's my star I'll be chasing.
The world is mine and I'm so fine,
I'm so much better off alone
I can't find emotions that I'd recognize.
And what I imagined
now I realize.
It's good that I'm good at forgetting.
It's good I'm the best at being me.

REF:

There's my road...
And the sun still shines on.
And my heart's still not torn.
And these words are here to remind me that you used to be there.

REF:

There's my road...
