

Be Your Own Pet, Heart Throb

I can see you're looking
And I really really want you to
I don't know if you know
But I'm looking straight at you
Everytime that I see
You're looking right at me
I forget that I belong to somebody

I can see you're looking
And I really really want you to
I don't know if you know
But I'm looking straight at you
Everytime that I see
You're looking right at me
I forget that I belong to somebody

You make me think way too hard
You make my stomach hurt way too much

Sun is getting brighter but I'm still cold
Said to tell me that you're feeling too old
Sun is getting brighter but I'm still cold
Don't just start to tell me how you feel

I can see you're looking
And I really really want you to
I would do anything that you want me to do
But I know I'm not allowed with everyone around
I gotta hide these feelings so they can't be found

I can see you're looking
And I really really want you to
I would do anything that you want me to do
But I know I'm not allowed with everyone around
I gotta hide these feelings so they can't be found

You make me think way too hard
You make my stomach hurt way too much

Sun is getting brighter but I'm still cold
Said to tell me that you're feeling too old
Sun is getting brighter but I'm still cold
Don't just start to tell me how you feel

Maybe I'm thinking way too much
Seeing things that are just not there
And I guess it's for the best
Cause I got someone else who cares

You make me think way too hard
You make my stomach hurt way too much
You make me think way too hard
You make my stomach hurt way too much

Sun is getting brighter but I'm still cold
Said to tell me that you're feeling too old
Sun is getting brighter but I'm still cold
Don't just start to tell me how you feel
