Masculine Eclipse

That grand facade will finally diminish
When he breaks your heart from start to finish
Sisters dream of isles in paradise
That ain't no use when the captain's just capsized
The smile that you now know was a guise
Left his clever lips and stole the prize
So women take a loser's good advice
Let your heart go floating out but use the anchor twice
Don't feel ever sorry for the dicks
Just grab that dice and hope you roll a six, a six

So as nature gave out semen to the jealous and the sick
Jesus gave out candles to the dim or partially lit
And woman you're a lighthouse while the candle only drips
Girl you are a shining star in masculine eclipse
In masculine eclipse, in masculine eclipse
In masculine eclipse, in masculine eclipse....
