Beautiful South, The, Don't Marry Her

Beautiful South, The
Blue Is The Colour
Don't Marry Her
(heaton/rotheray)
Think of you with pipe and slippers
Think of her in bed
Laying there just watching telly
Then think of me instead

I'll never grow so old and flabby That could never be Don't marry her, fuck me

And your love light shines like cardboard But your work shoes are glistening She's a phd in "i told you so" You've a knighthood in "i'm not listening"

She'll grab your sweaty bollocks Then slowly raise her knee Don't marry her, fuck me

And the sunday sun shines down on san francisco bay And you realise you can't make it anyway You have to wash the car Take the kiddies to the park Don't marry her, fuck me

Those lovely sunday mornings
With breakfast brought in bed
Those blackbirds look like knitting needles
Trying to peck your head

Those birds will peck your soul out And throw away the key Don't marry her, fuck me

And the kitchen's always tidy And the bathroom's always clean She's a diploma in & amp;quot;just hiding things& amp;quot; You've a first in & amp;quot;low esteem& amp;quot;

When your socks smell of angels But your life smells of brie Don't marry her, fuck me

And the sunday sun shines down on san francisco bay And you realise you can't make it anyway You have to wash the car Take the kiddies to the park Don't marry her, fuck me

And the sunday sun shines down on san francisco bay And you realise you can't make it anyway You have to wash the car Take the kiddies to the park Don't marry her, fuck me