

Beaver Brown Band, Emotional Storm

Bad moon on the horizon
Something in the air today
Hear the sound of thunder
And the rhythm of a driving rain

Just keep your body moving
Make it thu another day
Everything you ever wanted
Stays just another dream today

Well you feel a little lonely
Never asked this world for much
Baby won't you move a little closer
Lets see what happens when we touch

It's an emotional storm
Raining down over you
It's an emotional storm
Baby what we're going thru

When you ain't got no money
This town can get a little rough
And you give what you got now
Somehow its never good enough

At times it's hard to tell difference
Between what you know as right and wrong
You're too scared to make the bad move
But you been hungry just a little too long

Well you feel a little lonely
Never asked this world for much
Baby won't you move a little closer
Lets see what happens when we touch

It's an emotional storm
Raining down over you
It's an emotional storm
Baby what we're going thru

(solo)

It's an emotional storm
Raining down over you
It's an emotional storm
Baby what we're going thru

It's an emotional storm
Raining down over you
It's an emotional storm
Baby what we're going thru

It's an emotional storm
