

Bebe Rexha, Seasons (feat. Dolly Parton)

I lie awake inside a dream
And I run run run run away from me
The seasons change right under my feet
I'm still the same same same, same old me

ahh
ooo

And everyone around me
Oh they seem so grounded
But I can't seem to catch myself

My heart starts beating loudly
I know that I'm surrounded
But I'm too proud to ask for help

I lie awake inside a dream
And I run run run run away from me
The seasons change right under my feet
I'm still the same same same, same old me

ahh
ooo

My mirror is a liar
Inside I'm still a child
Who's tryna find her way back home

How come nobody warns us
About what's coming for us
That you live and die alone

I lie awake inside a dream
And I run run run run away from me
The seasons change right under my feet
I'm still the same same same, same old me

The seasons changing now
The leaves are turning brown
The snow is falling down
The sun is coming out

I feel it all now
I feel it all now
I feel it, I feel it, iiiii

I lie awake inside a dream
And I run run run run away from me
The seasons change right under my feet
I'm still the same same same, same old me
