

Bebo Norman, Finding You

Everything is all right, everything is so bright
And the sun is shining beautiful
Everyone is singing, everyone is dreaming
Every world is so colorful

And you look back at me
You know it makes me say

I'm finding you in everything that shines
I'm finding you in between the lines
I'm finding you
You open up my eyes every time
'Cause your love is so alive

Maybe you could stop time, hanging onto daylight
Doesn't ever have to go away
I could sing a new song, maybe get the words wrong
But you know just what I want to say

'Cause when you look at me
You know I still believe

I'm finding you in everything that shines
I'm finding you in between the lines
I'm finding you
You open up my eyes every time
'Cause your love is so alive

When broken things are given wings they fly away
You make me say

Everything is all right, everything is so bright
Yeah your love is shining beautiful
Everyone is singing everyone is dreaming
I'm feeling so alive

I'm finding you in everything that shines
I'm finding you in between the lines
I'm finding you
You open up my eyes every time
'Cause your love is so alive
