Beck, Looking For A New Sign

If I ever think about you If I ever call your name I?II put my empty arms around you Let them every die away

Looking out for a sign How can I tell what?s right Changing my ways to spite myšelf Cause I still want you

If I ran across your picture
If I called you bout to stay
And if I ask someone about you
It?s a habit i can?t break

Looking out for a sign How can I tell what?s right Changing my ways to spite myself Cause I still want you
