

Beckett, My Star

This is my situation
I'm standing lonely at my local station
It's just me, I'm being silly now
It's just me, feeling melancholy
You can make me smile
And you might just take these thoughts of frustration.

I know we're all the same
We lose all faith every now and then
And there's gonna be those bright days
But till then, I'll be standing in the rain.

So I wait in anticipation
I hope I live to fill all your expectations, but you say
Live for today, not tomorrow
Live for today, forget yesterday
And love this life, with all its strife
And dance like no one can see you.

I know we're all the same
We lose all faith every now and then
And there's gonna be those bright days
But till then, I'll be standing in the rain, standing in the rain.
