Cryin' Every Day

I wasn't born to be alone that was a lesson I was shown

To know that love was just a lie

I ran away to think it over

But it's over and I try to take a stand on what is real

Someone has shown me how to feel

I'm like a shadow in the night

I'm like a river in an ocean

I'm a flame without a light

And now I'm cryin' ev'ry day

And I've been cryin' ev'ry day

And I been think' of your love

I keep turnin' I keep turnin'

I keep turnin' I keep turnin'

Well your love is a cathedral and I came down here to pray

And now I'm cryin' ev'ry day

Can there be any wonder why to be living under

love is a revelation only few can share

I could be a mountain strong but the pain about you

Long as I live without you

I would still be there

I wanna die, die away

Never love, never cry

And I been walkin' in the rain

And I been hangin' on a dream

All the faces and the places that our love has ever been

Now I'm cryin' ev'ry day

And I been cryin' ev'ry day

And I been thinkin' of your love

I keep turnin' , I keep turnin'

I keep turning', I keep turnin'

Well your love is a cathedral and I came down here to pray

And now I'm cryin' ev'ry day

Can there be any wonder why to be living under

love is a revelation only few can share

I could be a mountain strong but the pain about you

Long as I live without you I would still be there

I wanna die, die away

Never love, never cry

I wasn't born to be a fool but I'm a fool to be around

I'm a man without a country I'm a King without a crown

And then you're throwin' me away

Another world , another time

But if anyone belongs to anybody you were mine

And I'm cryin' ev'ry day

And I been cryin' ev'ry day

And I've been thinkin' of your love

I keep turnin' I keep turnin'

I keep turnin' I keep turning'

Well your love is a cathedral and I came down here to pray

And now I'm ...
