

Bee Gees, Eyes

It's heaven in your eyes
How close I am to you
And something tells me now or never

If I can start by loving you
If I believe that your heart is mine
And all the little things we do alone
You and I can try together
Just place my love in your home
You can give it to me later
Keep me on the run
Keep the fire burning on

It's all in the eyes when you look at me
And the feeling when you kiss me is a mystery
When the taste of each other comes into play
Baby ,you and I better run away
Better run away , better run away

There must be some unwritten law

For just the two of us there must be more
And we can starve for each other
Save it through the night
Or we can feed forever
All that love inside
There's a fear of the danger
But I'm guided by the light
All the love that is lost
In the black of the night

It's all in the eyes when you look at me
And the feeling when you kiss me is a mystery
When the taste of each other come into play
Baby , you and I better run away
Better run away , better run away

I see me in your eyes
How close I am to you
And something tells me now or never
