Bee Gees, What Kind Of Fool

There was a time when we were down and out There was a place when we were starting over We let the bough break We let the heartache in Who's sorry now Who's sorry now

There was a world when we were standing still And for a moment we were separated And then you found her You let the stranger in Who's sorry now Who's sorry now

What , what kind of fool Tears it apart Leaving me pain and sorrow Losing you now How can I win Where will I be tomorrow

There was a time when we were down and out There was a place when we were starting over We let the bough break We let the heartache in Who's sorry now Who's sorry now

What , what kind of fool Tears it apart Leaving me pain and sorrow Losing you now How can I win Where will I be tomorrow

Was there a moment when I cut you down Played around What have I done I only apologize For being as they say , the last to know It has to show When someone is in your eyes

What, what kind of fool
Tears it apart
Leaving me pain and sorrow
Losing you now
Wondering why
Where will I be tomorrow

What, what kind of fool Tears it apart Leaving me pain and sorrow Losing you now How can I win Where will I be tomorrow (fade)
