Bee Gees, You

Bee Gees Miscellaneous You You

I can see the hands of time Guess it's now my time to learn things I read in storybooks Forgotten what it's like to weep My mouth is open , I can't speak What good would shouting be So unreal to me , the feeling when you said goodbye What can I do now

So please come back to me Don't end this life of mine Without you here with me I know I'm gonna lose my mind

My tears are hurting me Just what am I supposed to do When you see me in your mind, watching you

The way you used to hold my hand that no one else could understand The way you used to wink your eye Now all my hopes have changed to fears And all my smiles have changed to tears What good would shouting be So unreal to me, the feeling when you said goodbye What can I do now

So please come back to me Don't end this life of mine Without you here with me I know I'm gonna lose my mind

My tears are hurting me Just what am I supposed to do When you see me in your mind , watching you Watching you
