

Before The Dawn, My Darkness

[music: T. Saukkonen | words: T. Saukkonen]

I feel the dark side crawling in I suck it in with joyful grin I breath inside and keep it there this darkness I will not share

Were you with the ones who left me here with nothing more to fear I sense the pain and taste the blood
I yearn for pain that leaves no scars

Deep down in my darkness
unrighteous dimension of despair

I hit myself against the wall I hit myself I beat me raw on the floor I cannot move In my darkest hour the time has stood

Don't you touch me don't you dare to brake this silence with words of care unspeakable, unbarralelled my universe, my darkest cell

Deep down in my darkness
unrighteous dimension of despair

mirror mirror on the wall how much deeper I shall fall
