Before The Dawn, Scar

Needles in my nerves Nails in my spinal cord Acid burns inside my veins Blood creating stains Limbs with broken bones inside Tearing my flesh Penetrating through my skin I cannot feel a thing

Peeling my skin Revealing tissues underneath Taste the blood while I breath Limbs with broken bones inside Tearing my Flesh Penetrating through my skin I cannot feel a thing

Cant recognise myself So torn apart The scars and burning marks On my skin while the real pain Hurts deep within
