

Behemoth, Thy Becoming Eternal

O blest be thou, as vast as the night
In nomine igni
Thou who dost spawn the infernal and divine
In odium fidei
O blest be thou, as bright as light
In absentia christi
Armadas of rebellion align

I shall bathe myself in wine and gold
I will tear the arteries of cosmos so it may bleed
Behold the malignant salvo of my crimes
Abyssal eons that have wandered by

Where would I seek the truth
But here where mutiny and chaos bloom?

I satiate the ferocious hunger of the beast
In nomine igni
Cast the flock in great fury upon the Earth
In odium fidei
From South to North, from West to East
In absentia christi
In unity my fleets traverse

I shall cause thine overwhelming hatred to consume
Among the sainted legion where black hearts ignite
Forsooth, the branches of this wretched tree I'll wound
And rob its pestilential scions of their lives

Where should I seek the truth
but here where mutiny and chaos bloom?

Be praised
O be glorified
Exalted, honoured and lionised
Breathe in and breathe out
Cleansing fire from within and above
Thy becoming is eternal
The thrusting spear disinheriting the meek
By the name of the borneless one
We hail Satan
We hail thee
