

Behexen, Cathedral Of The Ultimate Void

Oh, our God Satan
The black light of our lives and all the seeing eye
Highest being of the shadow realms
Hear, and receive my prayer

Lucifer! The fallen star of the cosmos
Burn away my vanity
Make me pure for you,
as a golden howl of your spirit
Here in the cathedral of the victorious angel
In the dark vaults of your temple
With prayers I light the intense
On front of your immense void

Give me your flame
so I can burn as a torch for your glory
For the devotion smouldering in me is great love that will never die
The path of dedication... to the infinite emptiness

Lucifer! The fallen star of cosmos
Burn away my vanity
Make me pure for you,
as a golden howl of your spirit
Here in the cathedral of the victorious angel
In the dark vaults of your temple
With prayers I light the intense
On front of your immense void...
