Behind Crimson Eyes, Sometimes Forever Mean

[Verse 1:] You never, would take no for an answer Your smile like cancer I'm always, there for you but You only ever take what's mine

[Chorus 1:] Was there something I said That could make you feel this way And make me feel like my world's not turning Is there something I should do Should I stay the fuck away from you You're breaking away

[Verse 2:] Leave today, take with you Every memory along with every Mistake I, made for you It's all over, our lives have torn in two [Bridge:] Why do you care? I don't understand I can't justify all those lies I can't go on living this way It's not a game... and I'm not ok.
