

Bel Canto, The Dinosaur-Slipper-Man

The dinosaur-slipper-man does the very best he can
To make a living out of what he does.
He's selling dinosaur-slippers and dinosaur-ties.
Well, then it happened one night, the stars shone bright.
He knew exactly what he had to do.
And then nobody has seen him
Since he walked through that door and disappeared out in the blue.
Did he go now to see them again?
Did he go now to be with them, and if he did, will he come back again?
If he won't, will we know where he went?
Did he go now to see them again?
Did he go now to be with them, and if he did, will he come back again?
If he won't, do you know where he went?
The dinosaur-slipper-man has concealed his masterplan inside a Power PC CPU.
It has something to do with that he's met someone else on a cyberspace rendez-vous.
And so it happened that night, the stars shone bright.
He knew exactly when to flee.
He must have said to his baby; stationary baby:
«You must cover up for me».
Did he go now to see them again?
Did he go now to be with them, and if he did, will he come back again?
If he won't, will we know where he went?
Did he go now to see them again?
Did he go now to be with them, and if he did, will he come back again?
If he won't, do you know where he went?
