

Belinda Carlisle, A Woman & A Man

I took a walk today
To where the ocean meets the sky
I thought about the way
They always say love never dies

And as the sun went down
I saw a lovers silhouette
A woman and a man
In a dance I envied them

I thought of you
I loved you so
I don't know why
I let you go

A woman and a man
A love so close
Walk hand in hand
While I'm alone
A woman and a man
A love embrace
He turned his head
I saw his face

Could it be you
Yes, it was you
A woman and a man

I had to turn away
I hoped you wouldn't see me there
I thought about the way
You used to say I didn't care

And as you walked on by
I pulled my scarf across my face
And I began to cry
For all the love I'd thrown away

But there you were
Like in a dream

You were with her
And not with me
A woman and a man
A love so close
Walk hand in hand
While I'm alone
A woman and a man
A love embrace
He turned his head
I saw his face

Could it be you
Yes, it was you
A woman and a man
A woman and a man
A woman and a man
A woman and a man

We were so close. baby
Guess you never know
Just how precious love is
'til you've had it and held it

And let it go

A woman and a man
A love so close
Walk hand in hand
While I'm alone
A woman and a man
A love embrace
He turned his head
I saw his face

Could it be you
Yes, it was you
A woman and a man
A woman and a man
A woman and a man
A woman and a man
