

Bell Book and Candle, Baby you know

Tell me, could it be the last time and tell me, is it that I love you I'll carry on and walk another way tell me how say why can't you find the right words is it that you're feelin' unsure I see it through and walk another way tell me how can I hide away baby you know you know what I am feelin' I can't bear it anymore you know how I have tried just don't know what good it's for it's so easy to see what's on you mind baby you know - the truth is hard to find tell me that I'll be without you where coldness stands against believing the world moves on will show another way tells me how I can hide away baby you know ...
