

Belmez, Reflections

Fall Asleep, into your soul
Movements you control
Bleeding heart, crimson tears
A suitcase full of fears
These are reflections of your heart, tell me why would you hide?
All these reflections of your heart, tell me why would you hide
Blackened sun, one way down
You hide behind yourself
All these dreams paralyzed, wiped fear out of your mind
What you see, what you feel
All these forces pulling you
Play it down, face it now
Sorrow for the crown
Voices calling you, just let go,
See your hanging on to nothing at all, let it go
Forces calling you, just let go, see your hanging on only to fall
Let it go before it slips away.