

Beloved, Going Through The Motions

Only you can start this fire in my heart.

Set me ablaze tonight.

Cold no longer.

One day my fight will be over, but for now I'm looking straight ahead and it's all for you.

So, I'll let you rise, I'll let your rise in these bones our eyes have grown dim finding no rest in ourselvse.

Renew us O'Lord, light the fire within.

Burn, and rise from these ashes.

Burn the fire within.

Burn, rise up from these ashes.

Burn until the day that you will return.

Nothing more than to see through your eyes.

I want nothing else but to see through your eyes burn in my heart.

Take my heart. Set me free, light my fire.
