

Beloved, Happy Now

i'm happy now, oh can't you see? that wherever i turn, i turn towards me but this morning i kissed the floor and it tasted better than i'd have thought oh who'd have thought?

she wants water, i want wine everything will turn out fine but i know, yes i know
some people don't ever let go
she wants water, i want wine
everything will turn out fine
but i know, yes i know

as luck would have it and it surely would whatever i promised her was misunderstood and then i found splinters inside my tongue but at least i'm having fun i'd call it fun, perhaps i'm the only one?

now she wants water, i want wine
but i know, yes i know
some people don't ever let go
everything will turn out fine
some people never let go

i know, yes i know
some people don't ever let go
everything will turn out fine
but i know, yes i know

oh yes i know
some people don't ever let go
oh yes i know
some people don't ever let go
