

Ben Christophers, A Devil To Kill

I've got dumb blues over you and I'm godless suddenly
I don't have anything you need

I've got these bones under me
And i want to find a cure for time
Before it's time for me

Why am I beating myself up
I've got a devil to kill
Why am I beating myself up
I've got a devil to kill

Come back honey come back
I'm aching for you
But i was the one who let you go

Aint that always the way
Aint that always the way
It's the sunshine after the darkest day

My eyes are too big for my belly
I've got these bones under me
My eyes are too big for my belly
I've got these bones under me

Aint that always the way
Aint that always the way
It's the sunshine after the darkest day

Why am I beating myself up

I've got these bones under me and i want to find a cure
For time before it's time for me
