

Ben E. King, I Count the Tears

Na na na na na, late at night
Na na na na na, late at night
I have counted everyday since you've been away
It seemed like a thousand years
And then, na na na na na, late at night
Na na na na na, late at night
I'll sit and count the tears
(Na na na na na, late at night)
I have counted all your lies, all your alibis
I'm a guy, believes just what he hears
And at na na na na na, late at night
Na na na na na, late at night
I'll sit and count the tears
(Na na na na na, late at night)
She's gone and found somebody new
He may be happy now but soon
He'll be counting everyday that she's been away
It'll seem like a thousand years
And then, na na na na na, late at night
Na na na na na, late at night
He'll sit and count his tears
(Na na na na na, late at night)
He'll sit and count his tears
(Na na na na na, late at night)
He'll sit and count his tears
(Na na na na na, late at night)
He'll sit and count his tears
