

Ben Jelen, Slowdown

All of my answers, and all my reasons
And all my excuses they never rest
'Cause all of my answers they keep on changing
I spend my life waiting for the next

And oh, I just keep on moving
And oh, I just keep on pushing forward
And oh, I forgot what I was looking for--no

And all their illusions, I won't believe them
I'll always believe what I can't forget
'Cause all of their reasons, they keep on changing
I spend my life waiting for the next

And oh, I just keep on moving
And oh, I just keep on pushing forward
And oh, I forgot what I was looking for

Well, I'd trade wisdom back in for innocence
-to get away from all my lies
I'd trade wisdom back in for innocence
-to get away from getting by
I'd trade wisdom back in for innocence
-for just one look through those eyes
