Ben Lee, Stumbling Block

I'm out on a limb
I'm trying to climb
I'm feeling unsure
Every little thing
If you give it time
Is destined to change you

Why can't I take back my past if I wanna Why can't I lose half my life if I wanna

She'll do anything She'll hurt anyone That gets in her way She'll do anything She'll hurt anyone That gets in her way

The slippery tongue I wrap 'round the words The web that I've spun Put a stumbling block In front of the blind I made you feel dumb

Who says this fruit's gonna last forever Who says I'm wearing these shoes forever

She'll do anything She'll hurt anyone That gets in her way She'll do anything She'll hurt anyone That gets in her way

Locker room dialogue boils the fat To forget you're a kid feels much better than that Locker room dialogue boils the fat To forget you're a kid feels much better than that
