

Ben Lee, Wake Up To America

America is a big country

America is a big idea

I once got a fortune cookie that said

America is a place where people can invent themselves

So when I found myself making out with two girls at once at the Linkin Memorial in Washington, DC

I knew what that fortune cookie said had been

Beautiful, strange and true

America's a good country

Coz' I guess I believe that people in their hearts are essentially good

They just get greedy and they get scared

[Chorus]

America it must get so lonely being you sometimes

Up all night, no one to share the long drives with

Don't worry we won't let you fall asleep at the wheel

[Chorus]

Wake up to America, up to America

Up to America

Up to America

Up to America

Up to America

America

Wake up to America, up to America
