

Ben Lummis, Never Say I Love You

Verse 1

We had a love you let it go
You were all I'd ever known
What was so bad you had to go
No explanation, not a note

The situation left me numb
I must admit its kinda dumb
What has this love become
It left me alone, the only one

But now I'm standin with the thought in my head
Listening to the broken heart that clearly understands

Chorus 1

That I will never say I love you again
Cause every time I say I love you my heart gets broken
I will never say I need you again
Don't know where to look if I could ever start again

Verse 2

(OOO) I never had lucky hope
(OOO) Until I had a fatal dose
(OOO) That left me here without a pulse
(OOO) I pledged my heart and now I know

That now I'm standing with my heart in your hand
Listening to the broken heart that clearly understands

Chorus

That I will never say I love you again
Cause every time I say I love you my heart gets broken
I will never say I need you again
Don't know where to look if I could ever start again

Bridge

Why can't I just live again
(OOH) Why can't I just trust again
Is my heart listening
(OOH) Why can't it just beat again

(OOH) Every time I wanna love again
(OOH) I see that same thing happenin
Ooohhhhhh

Breakdown

That I will never say I love you again
Cause every time I say I love you my heart gets broken
I will never never say, never never say I need you again
Don't know where yo look if I could ever start again

Chorus

That I will never say I love you again
Cause every time I say I love you my heart gets broken
I will never say I need you I need you again
Don't know where to look if I could ever change again
Change again
