

Benjamin Kim, Sorry (Mother's Day Song)

When I was young,
While I did all the wrong,
I never imagined hurting your soul...
Throughout the years,
Your pouring tears,
Was the only thing I saw from you...

Everyday I broke your heart,
Never seemed like you fell apart,
What can I do now since you're gone...

What do I do now without you,
Since I've got nothing to lose,
But there's something I'd like to do...
I wanna say...
I'm sorry...

When I was down,
Nothing but a frown,
You were always there to pick me right up...
Then I see your face,
Makes me wanna embrace,
The woman that I really love...

Everyday I broke your heart,
Never seemed like you fell apart,
What can I do now since you're gone...

What do I do now without you,
Since I've got nothing to lose,
But there's something I'd like to do...
I wanna say...
I'm sorry...

Everyday I broke your heart,
Never seemed like you fell apart,
What can I do now since you're gone...

What do I do now without you,
Since I've got nothing to lose,
But there's something I'd like to do...
I wanna say...
I'm sorry...
