

Benjamins, Gave It Away

the tears are warm I'm washing off last night I wish I would've slept through it I wish I didn't know what you did one signle though going over and over in my mind I don't own you and you don't owe me a goddamn thing but I wish it was me it's never been, it'll never be you can say that it didn't mean a thing but it means everything and it's killing me oh, well, here's to luck I could walk away now and forget your name, your face and forget how much it hurts but I never forget that I love you and I would never forget I could never have you this all means something this means I give up and I don't about you and I don't give a fuck who you fuck and when the one you left for leaves you I won't come back
