

Benson Boone, There She Goes

Lovely bones
Won't you take me home
Cause I'm lonely
And hold me close

You're my only ghost
Come on haunt me
Cause I'm lonely
And I've been gone too many days
And it starts to feel the same every morning
And I don't recognize this place
Is it me or have I changed
They ignore me
And that makes me lonely
And when I hear my name
I wish that it was you who's calling out

There she goes
Like I've never been alone
Like I've had it all along
And every time I go away I hate that it's a day
That I never see your face
I'm lost in outer space
And when I'm looking down below
Oh there she goes

I've been floating around
Every city in town
Cars and bars
I can't figure out
Why these crowded rooms feel empty without you
Every name
Every face
Oh they all start to fade away
Into the back of my mind as I lie awake
Thinkin' bout
Running back to you
So I packed my bags
I'm taking off
I'm coming home
There she goes

Like I've never been alone
Like I've had it all along
And every time I go away I hate that it's a day
That I never see your face
I'm lost in outer space
And when I'm looking down below
Oh there she goes
Oh there she goes
Out of the blue
She comes around
She turned my whole life upside down
Out of the blue
Out of the clouds
And I can't stop it now

Like I've never been alone
Like I've had it all along
And every time I go away
I hate that it's a day
That I never see your face

And when I'm looking down below
Oh there she goes.
