

Bent Not Broken, Falling Faster

I was so lost, walking round in darkness
Searching for something to fill that void inside me
When I stop resisting and I started listening
I could hear you whisper in my ear

Say you love me and I'm yours
Say'n you won't break my heart anymore
And now I'm falling faster for you
And I never felt this before you
And I realize that without you I'm nothing at all
Oh I am nothing at all

Now I know what it feels like to really live in
Now I know I will forgive this truly
Since you came in my life and made everything right
Now nothing round me feels the same
