

Beres Hammond, Envy The Sunshine

[Esham's Daughter Talking]

I really envy the sunshine, baby

I really envy the sunshine, baby

Da-da, sing that song

I would like to always light your world

If you promise to be forever my baby girl

And I'll take you flyin' high with me

Or we can just sit like birds on a branch in a tree

And be free

We fly so high in the clouds

Nobody else is allowed

Up, up, and away we go now

Tell me if I should slow down

Slow down, slow down, slow down

So you can smell the roses

I think I smell the roses

But then again, it could be heavenly blues

Gone with the Morning Glory seeds is true

I water these seeds for you

From the sea shores on earth to the moon

With sunlight they blossom and bloom

With sunlight they blossom and bloom

(Chorus)

I really, really envy the sunshine, baby

I really, really envy the sunshine[2x]

I would like to brighten up your day

If you promise to be forever my lady
