

Beres Hammond, Step Aside

Hey, this is no disrespect,
No disrespect, brotherman
This is no disrespect, but could you
Step aside now, another man wants to take over
Because you don't know what you've got
So now it's time to lose her.
Step aside now, let me show you how to treat a woman
She needs a tender touch
She needs loving, oh, so much
Now tell me are you crazy?
Leaving her for so long, oh, so lonely
Now she's weary, so you better protect her
Because when your feeling blue, and you don't know what to do
She will comfort you
She's a dream come true
She will be your friend when you think that it's the end
She's always around
Always around.
Step Aside now, another man wants to be the ruler
Because you don't know what you've got
And now it's time to lose her
Step aside now, let me show you something about your woman
She needs a tender touch
She needs loving, oh, so much
Now tell me are you crazy?
Leaving her alone, oh, so, lonely
Now she's weary, so you better protect her
Because when your feeling blue, and you don't know what to do
She will comfort you
She's a dream come true
She will be your friend when you think that it's the end
She's always around
Always around
