

Beth Crowley, Reasons

You have the most beautiful smile.
You light up I can see you for miles and if you stay we can stand at the edge of forever.
How it kills me to see you get hurt.
You have no idea how much you're worth I would pay anything for the courage to say that I love you.

Tonight I want to dance with you.
I'll reach for your hand and convince you,
you're not completely alone.
Tell me what's broken and I'll try to fix it,
just don't give up yet.
This isn't the ending that you deserve.

Life's unkind and it's taken its toll,
but I understand more than you know just look around and see everyone's faking perfection.
We're all getting by, fractured and bruised,
too much pride to admit we're confused.
But I am sure that I don't want a world you aren't in.

Tonight I want to dance with you.
I'll reach for your hand and convince you,
you're not completely alone.
Tell me what's broken and I'll try to fix it,
just don't give up yet.
This isn't the ending that you deserve.

If you give me the reasons you think you should go,
I'll give you the reasons that you need to stay.

Tonight I want to dance with you.
I'll reach for your hand and convince you,
you're not completely alone.
Tell me what's broken and I'll try to fix it,
just don't give up yet.
This isn't the ending that you deserve.