

Beth Hart, Isolation

so you think i'm crazy want to take me away inject me with electric shock i'm not going nowhere hear what i say loud and clear reveal your sly intentions and free my isolation

a second longer say it's alright
a second longer i'll be insane
the second i become you
and what you say

run your wires through me fry electricity gas me till i pass on out you will not control me with your failed philosophies weep to ease the tension

lost my mind today
it was my desire i told them what was wrong but they called me a liar yeah, they called me a liar i am not afraid why should i care what they say i told them they were wrong still they called me a liar so i set 'em on fire

what your gonna say
