

Bette Midler, Homecoming Monologue

It's very good to be home...

It feels real good to be home...

And, and, uh, and you're my family... Thank you for coming...

I, uh, I didn't mean... I didn't mean to be late... uh... do you forgive me?

Well, I... I forgive you, too.

What are we waiting for boys? My boys? Stay with me, baby, come on... loud and whip.
