

Between The Trees, Changed By You

Please wait while I slowly untie my tongue tonight
I pray by some feeble attempt
My words would tell you what my heart has to say
Cause you've always been right beside me for so many days
How could I be without you now
Cause I am changed by you
The more I get to know you
The more I want you close to me
And I'll take care of you
Please just say you love me
Forever be whatever you need
And so if your supposed to get what you deserve in life
And you came just in the nick of time
God's grace has overtaken me
My love needless to say I am blessed by you
Cause you are the one
You are the one that I've been waiting for
I've been waiting for
And I am changed by you
The more I get to know you
The more I want you close to me
And I'll take care of you
Please just say you love me
Forever be whatever you need
You knock my fears away
And reach inside me with your eyes
And light a burning fire
And I can not stop staring
And I am changed by you
The more I get to know you
The more I want you close to me
And I'll take care of you
Please just say you love me
Forever be whatever you need
