

Big Boss, Kargerass

Once a long time ago they lived somewhere...

I'm drawing back the dark curtain of time,
over the land ancient and lost, forgotten in immense depths of ages, where nothing begins and nothing ends.

With mix of love and sorrow, I'm watching beautiful land that's already by its birth was ordained to come to an end.

Why? It disappeared under the layers of millenniums, not even a recollection has remained.

Where went the living and dead so beautiful and yet mortal?

It only lives in my mind, the woe-some sad recollection of the cruel fate and my beloved.

Proud nation - KARGERAS!
