

Big Brovaz, Lil' Mama

"Hey lil moma why dont you ever smile?

I know life aint easy

Bringing up a child, but yo

Listen lil moma

Cause Im feeling your pain

I wonder if your baby daddy out there feeling the same

Where your friend at lil moma?

They got plans tonight at the club

Wanna get themselves

a man tonight

They done left you all alone, huh lil moma

Under pressure on your own

Dealing with the drama

Can you turn to your family and ask for help

Or would they turn you away

Cause they got problems they self

Lil moma gotta crib

But its hell there

No frills gotta live on the welfare

Oh lil moma tell me what I can do

To make you smile just one time

And your little one too

Lil moma just know

Some of us men are true

Lil moma, this ones for you

Uh, lil moma

Chorus

Dont worry, youre stronger

Just hold on a little bit longer

Dont worry, youre stronger

Girl I know your man has left you

With a child on your own

And you find it hard to cope with all the stress alone

And theres nowhere to run

Cant have any fun

Looking for someone to be there for you

All your hopes in love are gone

You dont have strength to believe Gonna take time but you will find that special one that you need

But theres no need to rush, girl take your time

And you will find the one that will be true

Chorus

Hey little mama why you so depressed?

I know you wondering how the hell you got in this mess

babys last nappy wet

You cant turn to family

when you feel neglect

And I bet you did a couple of things that you regret

Theres always hope there never forget, all you gotter do is try harder

My mama made it on her own without my father Me and two brothers wonder how she did it Maybe its because she never gave up and stayed committed Barely 16 now gotta deal with this The pressure make you wanna slit your wrist but dont

The lord never gives you more than you can handle
If you keep your head up aint no telling what you can do Little Mama keep the faith,
God will keep you safe Under his wing all you gotta do is turn to him
And in the end you wont regret a thing
Chorus
